The building in which Bacchus is housed was originally a general store & residence in the late 1800's for the LeFevre family, who were descendants of the founders of our fair village of New Paltz. It has -- at various times since then -- been a Chinese laundry, litho shop, taxi station, barber shop (the original barber chair resides in our third floor office), café, porno photography studio, & -- finally -- a restaurant & bar.

Bacchus was conceived by a long hair who needed a partner who would allow him six months off a year & the necessary 50% of the funding, which amounted to the sum of $1,900.00. In the early fall of 1973 this Laurel & Hardy team began work by gutting & replacing all the amenities. It was completed in April of 1974. They opened a neighborhood tavern & agreed to name the place after the Roman God of wine, women & song. That was perhaps the last thing they agreed upon. The partnership ended shortly after. It is rumored that the original owner is still involved.

After many years as a very popular college & local nightspot, vast renovations & additions were made, essentially doubling the size of the building. Each year has brought many changes -- the billiard room opened in November 2005, followed by the front patio in June 2006, & the courtyard patio in June 2007. In August 2013, we opened The Brewery at Bacchus, our 3-barrel brewery that has since pumped its unique array of beers directly to our taps. We look forward to bringing you new projects as we continue to expand this historic space.

Enjoy our atmosphere & surroundings while having a hearty meal which will be served with the warmth & congeniality so well known, once you have escaped the city limits &, of course, finished this sentence.
